Dear Bob,

As always, I welcome the opportunity to address students at the National Defense University.

While my schedule through December is too solid, I hope I can make a commitment for a January date.

If January fits in with your plans, please have a member of your staff contact [redacted] in early December to work out a date.

Yours,

The Honorable Stansfield Turner
The Director of Central Intelligence
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Stan:

Your presentations at the National Defense University during the past two years have provided a unique opportunity for the students to learn about the intelligence community and its processes, and I am writing to see if we could persuade you to return this academic year to speak to the classes of 1981.

Our students reported this month and are launched into their academic programs. Ideally, we would like you to appear at 0830 on Wednesday, 1 October. If you desire, we would be pleased to distribute written material to be read in advance of your visit. If 1 October is not convenient for you, and I do appreciate the many demands on your time, we would be glad to arrange an alternate time.

We look forward to your reply, and greatly hope the combined classes of the Industrial College of the Armed Forces and the National War College will have the pleasure and honor of welcoming you here this October.

With best wishes.

Sincerely,

Bob
